DEVELOPERS/DESIGNERS

Endless Pools can be easily customized to complement any design aesthetic. They are constructed of durable, quality materials and are engineered for performance and reliability. The result is a pool that's both functional and visually stunning, adding instant value to residential or commercial multi-living projects.

HYDROTHERAPY

Endless Pools are perfect for warm water hydrotherapy, providing therapeutic benefits with advanced features like our Hydrodrive current and underwater treadmill. We also offer a wide range of ADA-compliant options to ensure accessibility and comfort for all users. Endless Pools products are also ideal for canine therapy, aiding in quicker recovery from injury.

Endless Pools also supports veterinary, hospitality, and government industries with tailored solutions to meet their unique needs.

A Two in One Solution: Aquatic Therapy for Humans and Canines with Endless™ Pools

PROBLEM:

Jan Stamp's dream was to open a clinic that offered innovative physical and occupational therapy for humans and also included aquatic therapy for canines. She needed equipment that could address diverse patient needs while ensuring accessibility and maximizing therapeutic benefits.

SOLUTION:

Jan integrated two Dual Propulsion Endless Pools into Rehab for Life, designed at wheelchair height for easy access. She installed a lift and underwater treadmill in one pool, while another was geared toward helping athletes train and recover. Just steps away at the Canine Aquatic Center, dogs benefit from water's bouyancy, which enhances their mobility, recovery, and overall well-being both in the water and on land.

VALUE:

The Endless Pools have revolutionized therapy for both humans and canines. Patients gain control over their pain and mobility, even if they don't know how to swim. Dogs experience freedom and faster recovery. Jan loves seeing how her clients thrive: "The aquatic environment creates transformations I don't see with land-based therapy—it gives patients control over their lives."

SwimLabs and Endless Pools Team up for Swim Training and Water Safety

PROBLEM:

SwimLabs of Montgomery County was looking for a safe, effective, year-round solution to teach individuals of all levels to build their confidence and skills in the water. They needed tools that could adapt to individual progress and provide a controlled learning environment.

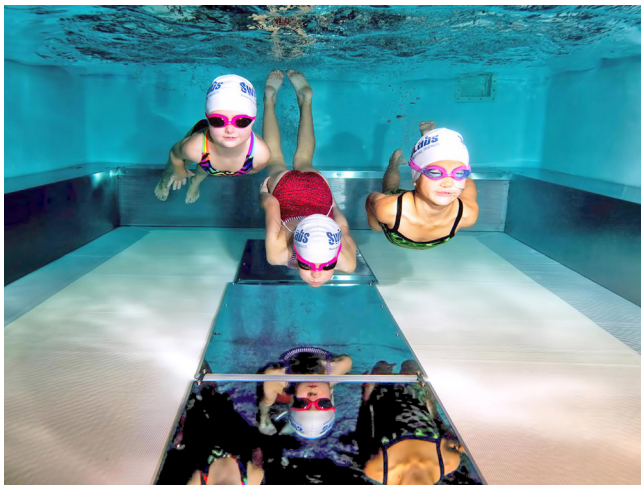

SOLUTION:

SwimLabs chose Endless™ Pools Dual Propulsion and Elite commercial pools to power their learn-to-swim program. The adjustable currents enable students to learn at their own pace, starting with gentle resistance and increasing as they gain strength. Mounted mirrors and cameras provide instant feedback, helping students evaluate their stroke and position. The pools are kept warm year-round ensuring that students look forward to a comfortable experience.

VALUE:

Endless Pools provide controlled, adaptable environments where swimmers of all levels feel safe and supported with instructors just an arm's length away. As SwimLabs owner Denise Dombay shares, "To me, the greatest reward is seeing someone walk out of their lesson smiling, happy, feeling like they've accomplished something."

A Legacy of Innovation

When Endless™ Pools introduced the first swim-in-place current in 1988, our ground-breaking technology was quickly embraced by collegiate swim programs. Since then, we've remained leaders in aquatic innovation, continuously refining our currents to deliver unparalleled versatility. Whether fast and powerful to challenge athletes and swimmers or smooth and gentle for therapy and swim lessons, our adjustable current adapts perfectly to suit a wide range of users.
